

“Chances are you never thought of your garden--indeed, all of your property--as a wildlife preserve that presents the last chance we have for sustaining plants and animals that were once common throughout the U.S. But that is exactly the role our suburban landscapes are playing.”

Douglas Tallamy, Professor of Entomology and author of The Living Landscape: Designing for Beauty and Biodiversity in the Home Garden and Nature's Best Hope: A New Approach to Conservation that Starts in Your Yard